

Process Safety Leadership for Senior Executives

Course duration - 1 day

What is it?

A highly practical course tailored to the needs of Senior Executives and Board Members. This one-day training course offers a clear insight into how to promote a positive safety culture throughout your organisation through the effective engagement of your workforce.

It provides participants with the tools to develop a detailed understanding of the business case for effective process safety management.

How is it delivered

The training can be delivered on-site to groups of up to 10 delegates. Included with the in-house course is a review day which will take place within six months of the training. For individuals or smaller groups we run open courses across the UK.

The course is delivered by highly experienced Cogent Skills assured training providers, using case studies and group discussions to actively engage all participants. All delegates will be given exclusive access to a suite of video case studies designed to reinforce the learning for up to three years.

Who should attend?

The course has been specifically designed for Senior Executives and Board Members of high hazard facilities, who are ultimately responsible for process safety performance within their organisation.

For companies with boards located outside of the UK, then the responsibility to demonstrate this leadership will lie with the most senior UK executives.

This course has made me aware of the discomfort in our failings - I am keen to make a difference. I will implement the three main questions on general awareness to absorb cultural pointers.

Process Safety Leadership for Senior Executives course is part of the Process Safety industry training standards*

The one day Process Safety Leadership course provided an excellent platform to engage with our Senior Leadership Team and develop common understanding of the subject.

As a result of this engagement we have produced a set of short and medium term Process Safety improvement initiatives for our Teesside Site facilities.

Darren Smith,
SABIC UK Petrochemicals EHS Director

The Process Safety Leadership for Senior Executives course was very well received by all participants and it has helped improve our levels of Process Safety understanding - we couldn't have done it without Cogent Skills!
